

Please vote in favor of enforcing existing regulations requiring portability for cell and wireless phone numbers. To vote otherwise perpetuates the monopolistic tendencies of the major mobile telecom companies. Free-market competition relies on smaller companies having unimpeded access to customers. And customers should have the right to purchase service from any reputable company without having to forfeit a long-held phone number in the process. How could you possibly vote against freedom of choice in this market?